Dear colleagues, dear friends,

We are deeply shocked by the violence and extremism that Israel has to endure in these hours. The high number of innocent civilians - including children - falling victim to murder and abduction are absolutely shocking, and we can hardly put our dismay over this cruel behavior into words. Our thoughts are with all those who have to suffer in this conflict.

We cannot imagine what you must be going through right now. The uncertainty, fear for your family, and the great worry about the future are emotions one should never have to feel, and we are infinitely sorry that you are going through this.
We are not only colleagues but we have become friends, and it is heartbreaking not to be able to actively help good friends in need.

However, with these words, we want to express our sincere sympathy and assure you that we are thinking of you at every moment, sending you strength during these difficult times. No one knows how the situation will continue to unfold, but we hope from the depths of our souls that peace will prevail.

We are here for you!
In deep solidarity,

W. Ulshöfer
